National Health and Wellbeing Outcomes

The National Health and Wellbeing Outcomes are high-level statements of what health and social care partners are attempting to achieve through integration and ultimately through the pursuit of quality improvement across health and social care.

By working with individuals and local communities, Integration Authorities will support people to achieve the following outcomes:

Outcome 1: People are able to look after and improve their own health and wellbeing and live in good health for longer.

Outcome 2: People, including those with disabilities or long term conditions, or who are frail, are able to live, as far as reasonably practicable, independently and at home or in a homely setting in their community.

Outcome 3. People who use health and social care services have positive experiences of those services, and have their dignity respected.

Outcome 4. Health and social care services are centred on helping to maintain or improve the quality of life of people who use those services.

Outcome 5. Health and social care services contribute to reducing health inequalities.

Outcome 6. People who provide unpaid care are supported to look after their own health and wellbeing, including to reduce any negative impact of their caring role on their own health and well-being.

Outcome 7. People using health and social care services are safe from harm.

Outcome 8. People who work in health and social care services feel engaged with the work they do and are supported to continuously improve the information, support, care and treatment they provide.

Outcome 9. Resources are used effectively and efficiently in the provision of health and social care services.

Integration Planning and Delivery Principles

The integration planning and delivery principles are the lens through which all integration activity should be focused to achieve the national health and wellbeing outcomes.

They set the ethos for delivering a radically reformed way of working and inform how services should be planned and delivered in the future.

The principles also set a clear tone for both the national guidance and local implementation of the Public Bodies \(Joint Working\) \(Scotland\) Act 2014.

The main purpose of the integration planning and delivery principles is to improve the wellbeing of service-users and to ensure that those services are provided in a way which:

- Are integrated from the point of view of service-users
- Take account of the particular needs of different service-users
- Takes account of the particular needs of service-users in different parts of the area in which the service is being provided
- Take account of the particular characteristics and circumstances of different service-users
- Respects the rights of service-users
- Take account of the dignity of service-users
- Take account of the participation by service-users in the community in which service-users live
- Protects and improves the safety of service-users
- Improves the quality of the service
- Are planned and led locally in a way which is engaged with the community (including in particular service-users, those who look after service-users and those who are involved in the provision of health or social care)
- Best anticipates needs and prevents them arising
- Makes the best use of the available facilities, people and other resources
